

Custom Bicycles.

You are unique. And the bicycles you ride should reflect your individuality. Whether you are a seasoned athlete or new to one of cycling's many competitive niches, having proper fitting equipment is essential for maximizing performance.

Here at Tiemeyer Cycles, we specialize in building custom bicycle frames that optimize your cycling position for the type of riding that you do. Why limit yourself to a standard production sized bike in a color you "settled on" and "optimized" with stem and saddle adjustments. You can have a responsive bike with a dynamic paint job that fits you perfectly for much less than you might expect to pay. These bikes intimidate the competition and invite you to reach your potential.
